Candie House

This was once a private house belonging to Osmond de Beauvoir Priaulx. He donated his house and gardens to the people of Guernsey in 1871.

It is now a public library called the Priaulx Library.

Draw it if you have time.

Candie Cemetery

Frederick Corbin Lukis lived during Victorian Times. He was an archaeologist and his work formed the basis of Guernsey Museum. The Lukis Family tomb is in Candie Cemetery. If you find the tomb, record when he died.

F.C. Lukis died

Victoria Tower

Did you know? There is a time capsule buried deep in the foundations of Victoria Tower.

When was the Tower built?

The Arsenal

Did you know? The Arsenal is now a Fire Station but during Victorian Times, it was the Guernsey Militia Headquarters. All Guernseymen had to serve in the Militia; it was their job to protect the Island from invasion.

The Postbox

Guernsey has the first postbox in Britain. What street is it on?

Guilles -Allés Library, the Market and Assembly Halls

Look at this image from c. 1830.
What's different between then and now?

Record your thoughts here. Think about buildings, stalls, traffic and fashion...

Statue of Prince Albert

Did you know? Queen Victoria and Prince Albert visited Guernsey in 1846. They were only here for a short time and had a quick tour of St Peter Port. Some roads were named after them; they travelled along Victoria Road, Queen's Road and Prince Albert Road.

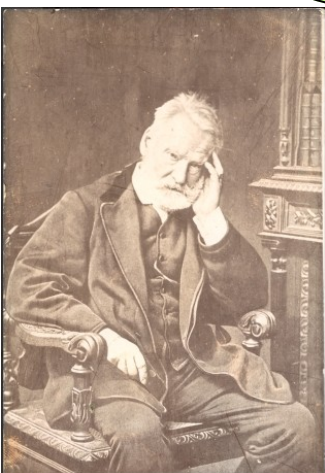

26, Cornet Street

This was once a Victorian house but what is it used for now?

Hauteville House

The famous resident of this house came to Guernsey in 1855 and stayed for 15 years. Find out 3 facts about him or his house.
